Cincinnati moving past 'handicapped'

New signs in Cincinnati-owned buildings will no longer include the word handicapped.

Instead, they'll say accessible or just show the familiar symbol of a stick figure in a wheelchair. The difference is significant, advocates for the change say, because it helps remove any stigma associated with handicapped.

Cincinnati City Council members voted unanimously last week to make the change. Current signs will be replaced as needed. Hamilton County Commissioners approved the same change in the spring.

ARC West's Jo Warner retires

Jo Warner, a longtime staff member at ARC Industries West, retired in July after 36 years of dedicated service. Jo started her career in September, 1974 at Northeast School, which was still under construction at that time.

Jo's original class of students were all the inspiration needed to pursue the field as a lifelong career.

"They welcomed me with open hearts and appreciated the little things that I did with them."

Jo made the switch to working with adults, landing at ARC West in 1991. "We feel blessed to have had Jo with us," said Director Jan Montgomery.

Jo has two grandchildren with whom she loves to spend time. She also plans to volunteer with animals. Reflecting on her career, Jo said, "As saddened as I am to leave, I will take with me lots and lots of cherished memories."

We wish Jo much happiness in her retirement.

Graystone supports Special Olympics

Graystone Consulting, a division of Morgan Stanley Smith Barney, was the major corporate sponsor of and driving force behind the Golf Outing to benefit FCBDD Special Olympics. Several athletes were special guests at the event, which was held on June 21st at Little Turtle Country Club. Over $50,000 was raised.

"We are very grateful to all our supporters and especially Graystone for its continued, outstanding leadership in this endeavor," said Ryan Phillips, Director of FCBDD's Special Olympics program.

Sensational summer at ECE

by Sarah Gillilan

Many social gatherings took place during the six-week summer center program at ECE. Some of the activities experienced by the children included bands, break dancers, firemen, parades, snakes and a visit from Ronald McDonald.

Children and staff had a great time making summer memories.

ECE barn under way

A play barn is going up on the Early Childhood Outdoor Learning Environment on Johnstown Road. The structure was made possible by a grant awarded by the Columbus Foundation, as well as other grants and donations.

The barn will offer opportunities to challenge the motor abilities and interests of the children.

Completion is scheduled for early fall when a ribbon cutting and “barn raising” event will be held.

Special Olympics offers football parking

FCBDD’s Special Olympics program will again offer parking for all home Ohio State football games. Fans can park at ARC Industries West, 250 W. Dodridge Street, for only $10. All proceeds go to support the Special Olympics program. Season passes are also available for only $80. This pass reserves a parking spot until game time.

The green spot

by Brenda Toney

Starting this summer, the Service Coordination Department began partnering with Rumpke Recycling on recycling paper, paperboard, cardboard, plastic bottles, glass bottles and jars, as well as aluminum and steel cans. Each month the department diverts nearly 750 pounds of recyclable materials.

Since these materials aren’t going to landfills, where are they going? According to the Rumpke website, plastic drinking bottles are used to make cleaning product bottles, carpets, fabric and insulation for winter jackets. Opaque plastic bottles are used to make detergent bottles, trash bins, park benches, picnic tables and the base caps for plastic soft drink bottles. Glass is used to make a raw material for the production of fiberglass insulation. Steel cans are melted for use in appliances and cars.

Aluminum cans are especially important to recycle as they contain a raw material called bauxite. Supplies of bauxite have been depleted in Ohio, making used aluminum a particularly valuable recycled material. Aluminum is recycled into gutters, siding, or more soft drink cans.

Paper is sorted by Rumpke and recycled into similar types of paper. For example, paperboard and cardboard can be made into cardboard boxes, while office paper can be turned into more office paper.

Shredded paper is recycled too. In July, 1,666 pounds of shredded paper was collected, compressed and baled to make a variety of paper products.

“Quotable quotes”

No man is an island, no man stands alone
Each man's joy is joy to me
Each man's grief is my own
We need one another, so I will defend
Each man as my brother
Each man as my friend
