Smart Home Devices Offer

Developmental Assist Foundation, a non-profit charity, was created to help people with developmental disabilities afford the cost of assistive technology to enhance safety and independence.

The Foundation has now raised enough funding to help seven (7) households with a complete set of smart home devices. These devices will allow a person with the ability to control their television, home thermostat, front door lock and camera, smart light bulbs, make emergency notifications and more.

Those interested in applying for the devices can apply by going to the Developmental Assist website at:

<https://www.developmentalassist.org>

Then click on the 'Contact' link, submit your contact information and under the 'Comment' section tell your story on how these smart home devices will enhance your safety or independence. Developmental Assist will review applications and get back to you if they are able to award a complete set of the devices.

Further questions can also be directed to the 'Comment' section on the 'Contact' link on the Developmental Assist website.
