

Welcome To The 2025 Franklin County Provider Fair

Sponsored By The Franklin County Board Of Developmental Disabilities and The Franklin County Provider Council

Information For Our Guests

There are two ways to look for services:

1) Look for the balloon color of the General Service Category for the service you are seeking. Every Provider at the Provider Fair will have a balloon of that color tied to their table.

OR

2) Use this Directory to find the list of the providers in the General Service Category for the service you are seeking. Then find the column in that list for the specific service you are seeking. Then find the providers with an X in that column.

To locate a provider when you know their table number:

The tables at the Provider Fair are numbered like street addresses. Look for the 24" x 36" signs on easels at the beginning of each aisle that tell you what table numbers are in that row. Then look for the table number for each table on signs at the top of the partitions behind each table.

Should I Choose An ICF Or A Waiver?

(excerpted from the DODD web site)

When someone has an Intellectual and/or Developmental Disability there can be questions about the best place to live as they get older. Will they live with family or a friend, on their own, or in a group setting? Waiver Services and Intermediate Care Facilities (ICFs) are options for individuals. Both are available to provide services to individuals with disabilities, but which option is best?

As a general overview, an ICF provides the opportunity for multiple individuals to live together with staff members being available 24 hours a day. There are many services provided and include things such as assistance with showering and hygiene needs, helping with chores like laundry and cleaning, and providing transportation to the greater community. Your meals and utilities are included when living in an ICF; therefore, you do not pay extra for these items.

Waivers provide money for services that the individual can receive while living independently, with family or friends, or within a group setting. The services received are similar to those provided by an ICF with the individual choosing and arranging their service provider(s). Individuals with Waivers are responsible for paying for the place they live, including utilities, and for food.

One needs to ask questions to determine which choice is best. Questions such as, what services do I need assistance with? Do I want to find my own provider(s)? Do I want to live with other individuals? Do I prefer to live alone? Do I want or need to have staff available 24 hours a day?

So, what is the best option? It truly depends on the individual and their preferences. You can find resources to help with decision-making by visiting the Ohio Department of Developmental Disabilities website.

To learn more about comprehensive ICF facility services at today's Provider Fair, talk with any of the four agency provider representatives at Tables 101 through 105.
